A Jolly Surprise.

The surprise last evening was the sickness of Miss Rice, who did not appear. The manager further surprised the audience by offering to return anybody's money who wanted it. No one went out and the performance made up in vim what it lacked in length.

Of the Company Mr. Charles H. Bradshaw as the flurried and frivolous husband, and B. McDonough, as the impecunious theatrical manager, deserves special commendation for their conscientious work. The other members of the company are quite equal to the parts they are called upon to fill.

Died from Blood Poisoning.

Some three weeks ago, says the Central Nevada, John P. Martin of Battle Mountain had the misfortune of having a large piece of greasewood run into his foot. He extracted it immediately, but some days afterward the foot swelled and blood poisoning ensued from which death resulted. Deceased was unmarried, but had two brothers living in Battle Mountain.

"The Wave," which has taken its place as San Francisco's leading weekly paper, has added a new feature to its already interesting list. It has begun the illustration of its stories, and that bright and knowing personage, "The Witness" illumines his clever chat with portraits and fancy sketches in half-tones and line cuts.

The pictures are by J. H. E. Partington, and makes and immense improvement in the appearance of our bright contemporary.

The case of the Wyoming cattlemen has been thrown out of court and the 23 defendants discharged. Over 100 talesmen were examined and a jury could not be secured. The affair has involved the expenditure on both sides of about $300,000, and it has kept the state in a ferment for nine months. The men discharged are among the most prominent citizens, but a number of them must leave, so strong is the resentment against them.

It must have been gall and wormwood yesterday to the gold bug conspirators who put up the job to down Stewart, when they saw the unanimous vote, with the exception of one absentee.

WASHOE WINS.

The Wallace and Powning Divisions Rout the Combine.

Yesterday the Washoites, led by Generals Wallace and Powning, carried the day and elected Bell Warden. The Ormsby brigade stacked arms on the field of battle and capitulated, the Washoe military band, led by Norcross and Fouks, playing "Tara-ra-boom-de-ay" and other sacred music. The victors acted very generously to the vanquished and instead of sending them to the block as rumored allowed them leave of absence on parole. The Editor of the APPEAL invited Gen. Wallace to come at the first opportunity and take a chicken dinner at the H. I. Stein Ragh and bring his staff. The offer was accepted and the pullets (saved over from last fall) have been put on a bran and sawdust diet.

Preferred Creditor.

Uncle Sam is sometimes slow but always sure pay. A Tribune claim of $41.75 for advertising done eight months ago came to hand this week. Tribune.

The Gazette is evidently a preferred creditor. The Gazette has had to wait sixteen months for Uncle Sam to materialize the spindles, for work and labor done and performed at his special instance and request. Gazette.

The APPEAL has claims in against the government for advertising proposals for supplies in the Government Building in this city and is unable to get a cent or even a reply from the department. The claims have been there over two years.

Not the "One and Only."

Some ill advised person, on whom a lunacy commission should set at an early date, caused a large placard to be posted in the House cloak room inscribed, "The Morning APPEAL. The best free silver newspaper west of the Missouri."

It was not authorized by this office or any one connected with it. All good silver papers stand on the same basis of excellence in this State.

Not True.

The report that one or two of the ladies who had property destroyed by the late Reno fire were arrested and incarcerated on account of some misunderstanding with the insurance company, is absolutely false. Some people who are more or less demented draw too much upon their imagination.

Johnson's Denial.

Sacramento, Jan. 25—Assemblyman H. H. Johnson of Santa Clara stated this morning to an Associated Press representative, regarding the charge that he had offered to sell his vote to the Railroad Commission in a matter affecting the Commission, that the charge was absolutely and unqualifiedly false. "I never met Commissioner Rea but once in my life," said Mr. Johnson, "and have never had any correspondence with him on any matter or with any of his friends as far as this charge is concerned. This charge may grow out of the defeat of certain parties by me at the late election. I have seen Speaker Gould and he says e has received no letter from Commissioner Rea at all. There was a bill here creating an additional judgeship for Santa Clara county which I succeeded in having withdrawn, and this also may have some bearing on the matter.

Johnson also stated that upon receipt of the letter containing charges he would move an investigation.

A grand St. Valentine Masquerade Ball and Concert will be given at the Carson Opera House, February 14, 1893. Elegant and costly prizes will be given as follows:
